Campus life is a complex, multi-colored mosaic made up of fragmented impressions.

Against the background of everyday activities, every man becomes his own architect.

Thought, feeling, and expression had their time.
Each student became involved in his interests.

Sometimes we needed uninhibited lapses when we became carefree and enjoyed life.

Ceremony became a part of our lives in traditional homecoming and in the special occasions, like the Day of Dedication and Commemoration.

Specially arranged brick and mortar continued to change the facade of Western.

The activities which are unique at the beginning soon become repeated patterns of behavior.

The indefinable traditional spirit of Western becomes instilled anew in the incoming student.

Impressions

DOTTIE HILD, Editor

SUSAN GILLILAND, Assistant Editor

New faces, new classes and new places provide a haven for the undecided or just plain weary.

Whether you are the one seeking help in the selection of classes . . .

or you are the one giving the help, registering is an experience not to be forgotten.

Initial encounter

The long waits after that first encounter with registration are often frustrating.

The lineup . . . necessary to obtain a passport to Western.

Making sure of the right classes, at the right hour on the right day is tedious for all.

The burden of moving in often falls on someone else's shoulders (or head).

Helplessness overcomes a person when all the able-bodied men are helping other girls.

Confusion says . . .

A moving excursion can never take place without involving the family.

The hesitations and lonely feelings of meeting new roommates soon turn to . . .

long conversations and lasting friendships when sharing a room.

Pains of competition

One can feel his loneliest when making a decision in the huddle.

The sweat of anguish and toil is well earned in a consecrated athlete.

Concern for a team results in anxiety before the victory is pronounced.

Pains of competition distort the face of an anxious coach anticipating victory.

One has to exert himself to overcome the consequences of a determined competitor.

Spirits released

To liberate one's spirit is not hard for a proud football Mother.

"Mr. Spirit" himself exemplifies the feeling of spirit at a Western football game.

With every one adding that "extra thrust of spirit," Western is sure to come out on top.

The "Spirit leaders" gain support with a winning smile to cheer their team to victory.

Ecstasy becomes the victor after the winning touchdown is scored.

Doubt sometimes creeps over an enthusiastic crowd when their team is under the opponent.

Seeking the solitude of a quiet chess game is hard to do when wanting to be alone.

Chores often relinquish to a few minutes of expressed feelings.

The look of love can be detected in the face of many a lovely coed.

Moments shared . . .

Moments shared to gaze upon a blazing bonfire are reflected in the eyes of those who care.

Expressions of feeling can be conveyed through eyes as well as through words and actions.

Escaping from a world of action and confusion is fun only when it is shared with someone else.

A time for letting go—to share with one another personal interest.

Soul personified

Soul personified easily describes the "Wicked" Wilson Pickett.

Encircled soul releases a feeling of self-expression for the participants.

Even Western's own star, Butch Kaufman, gains entrance to the limelight of singing.

The spotlight reveals a world of entertainment through the Lettermen.

Soul is embodied in the moving sounds of the Four Tops.

Resolved to symmetrical perfection is revealed on the face of this Rebelette leader.

The leadership of the ROTC facilitates the inevitable flow of traffic.

The arms of guidance encompass the blending tones of the Big Red Marching Band.

Symmetric leadership

Performing with perfection requires the determination expressed by this Silver Girl.

Leading the band is a back-breaking job for the drum major who marches with resolution.

An overwhelming pride envisions the winner to be crowned by the reigning Miss Kentucky, Jo Anne Clark.

A stroke of beauty

Being "Momma's boy" is one of the unexpected duties of a master of ceremonies.

A judge blots out reality as she struggles to find the girl with the qualities of a possible Miss America.

Winning—a moment packed with excitement, thrill, surprise and a glowing warmth of satisfaction.

"Swimsuit, swimsuit, oh it's nice to see the girls in their swimsuits."

Snow marauders

Western coeds bombard passers-by with snow-ball accuracy.

Creativity is captivated by the vivid imagination of this Western coed.

Snow comes and goes and so do the snow marauders.

Ingenuity plays an important role in devising new modes of sled transportation.

A sense of merriment and devilment overwhelms many a student engaged in a snow battle.

Applied learning

Creating is not always a clean job for the creator of pottery.

Capturing the intense action of the ballgame is the responsibility of this student cameraman.

The finished product in any trade exemplifies applied learning.

Since audio visual is so widely used in the modern classroom, the skill of this student should not be underestimated.

In order to detect living cells, a biologist must learn to manipulate a microscope.

Everything can't be fun and games is apparent in the look of this coed.

Part of the fun of winning is sharing your victory with your friends.

This Western student assumes the guise of a self-reflector of candid visions of Western.

The sudden realization that you are the winner is a breath-taking moment.

The perception of being someone else is a realization for this coed during Homecoming.

Candid perceptions

The teacher-student relationship is often extended to outside discussions.

Effective application of learning results from the direct experience of the instructor.

A flurry of teaching

Examining and criticizing the finished product is a must for student progress on all levels of education.

Instructional guidance incorporates personal counsel with individual students.

Not only does a teacher enjoy teaching, but she delights in sampling her "learning" with her class.

Too often this is the posture of a student with earnest intentions to study hard.

It is unusual to find solitude for studying in the dorm room.

These shadows of study hover over a student until the sun rises and classes resume.

Many efforts toward learning lead to frustrations and perplexities of the mind.

A sensation of relief alleviates this student from the fatigue of studying.

In seeking silence for concentration, a student often resorts to the confines of the library.

Shadows of study

The grotesque flair of makeup increases the success of impersonation.

Enlightened refinement results in observing the art of skilled craftsman.

Dramatic acting instills a cultural knowledge of the arts for these Western players.

Determination and rehearsal make a master of music out of an amateur.

One reaches new heights in expression of thoughts when conversing with a fluent lecturer.

Enlightened refinement

Delivering money from home, love letters and overdue bills rests upon the campus mailman.

Lucky boys . . . to have a car legally registered with the school.

Exchanging ideas over a hot cup of coffee is a daily ritual for many students.

Western makes the master over Tripod, an old and traditional friend.

Rebelettes exhibiting their respect and pride is fast becoming a Hilltop Tradition.

Handshakes and backslaps keep a revival of the campaigning traditions at Western.

Prevailing tradition

All too soon—graduation, an event marking four years of constant and deliberate learning.

Even for the ones having attended several graduations, commencement revives old pledges toward greater ideals.

From the time one receives his diploma, he begins reverting back to the past and take inventory of accomplishments and failures.

Too soon graduation

With self-determination and high goals, one can make graduation the beginning of a new and successful life as idealized in Western's President Thompson.

Academics

Lawrence W. Wetherby Administration Building.

Dr. J. T. Gilbert, Dr. W. Gerald Edds, Dr. Harry M. Sparks, Douglas Keen, Maxey B. Harlin, Hugh Poland, Dr. Chalmer P. Embry.

Board of Regents

The Board of Regents of Western Kentucky University is composed of six members appointed by the Governor. The state superintendent of public instruction also serves as an ex-officio member of the board and is its chairman. The board has final authority on all policy matters of the University. Current members are Dr. Harry M. Sparks, superintendent of public instruction, chairman; Dr. W. Gerald Edds, Dr. Chalmer P. Embry, Dr. J. T. Gilbert, Maxie B. Harlin, Douglas Keen and Hugh Poland.

President

The twelve years Dr. Kelly Thompson has served as president of Western have been the school's most critical period. It has been a time when traditional patterns and methods became outmoded and a willingness to experiment and change became essential. President Thompson, with a clear vision of what Western could be, has experimented and changed when necessary.

Vice President

During the years that Dr. Raymond L. Cravens has served as Vice President for Academic Affairs, improvements have been made in the colleges, the curriculum has been enriched in the various departments, and new programs and areas of study have been established. The fundamental ideas of education, that of experimentation and learning by the student, are stressed by Dr. Cravens in his role as Dean of the Faculties.

Vice President

As Vice President in charge of Administrative Affairs, Mr. Dero Downing is responsible for business operations and occupies an important role in directing the physical growth of the University. The Graduate School offers curricula leading to the Master of Arts Degree in Education, English, History, Music, and Physical Education and the Master of Science Degree in Agriculture, Biology, Engineering Physics, Government, Mathematics and Physics. Two specialized degrees, the Master of Business Administration and Master of Public Service, have recently been initiated into the graduate program. A joint doctoral arrangement with George Peabody College for Teachers in Nashville, Tennessee, was begun this year in Educational Administration. Students in this program will be able to complete 46 of the 72 hours needed at Western. Graduate study is under the general direction of the Graduate Council of which the Dean of the Graduate School is chairman.

Knowledge is gained through individual assistance.

Small group instruction often provides a variation in the learning process.

Graduate assistantships provide the student with a unique learning situation.

Individual instruction is an asset to learning.

The Ogden College of Science and Technology includes the departments of Agriculture, Biology, Chemistry, Geography and Geology, Mathematics and Physics. Represented within these academic disciplines are the pure and applied sciences, mathematics and related social sciences. Constructed on the old Ogden campus, the ultra-modern Kelly Thompson Science Complex, including the planetarium, adds a touch of tomorrow to the campus. It houses the various departments composing the college and provides the college with another new face.

The Hardin Planetarium, opened this year, illustrates the ever-increasing role played by science in our world today.

On May 15, 1965, the local chapter, Epsilon Delta of Alpha Delta Pi, received its charter. The national sorority was founded May 15, 1951, at Wesleyan Female College in Macon, Georgia, as the Adelphean Society and became the first secret society in the world for college women. The ADPi's sponsor the traditional "ADPi 500" held annually as the climax of Greek Week. The sorority's flower is the Woodland Violet, and its colors are azure blue and white. "We live for each other," is their open motto.

In Western's win over St. Joseph in the first game of the season Dickie Moore took up where he left off last season by scoring three touchdowns and gaining 159 yards in 14 carries. Western took a commanding 21-0 lead at halftime with Dickie Moore and Jim Vorhees doing most of the running.

The Hilltoppers then traveled to Clarksville for their first OVC encounter of the season and romped over the Governors 31-6. Dickie Moore, showing blinding speed and power, scored on runs of 80, 36 and 2 yards. The Toppers' third win of the season over East Tennessee came on a rugged defensive game and Tom Atwood's two field goals. Atwood kicked field goals of 21 and 23 yards.

It was a day of commemoration and dedication as 8,000 fans looked on as Western crushed Tennessee Tech. Dickie Moore scored four touchdowns and Tom Atwood kicked 8 consecutive extra points and the Toppers won their fourth game in as many starts.

The showdown for the conference title took place in Richmond, Ky., on October 22, and as the irresistible force and the immovable object met the result was a 14-14 tie.

Homecoming came next and 13,000 fans were not disappointed as the Toppers remained unbeaten in downing the Eagles 30-19.

Defeat finally came on a cold Saturday afternoon when with 1:58 left in the game and on 4th down the Blue Raiders scored.

The Hilltoppers' sixth win came over the Bulldogs in Indianapolis.

Once again it was Dickie Moore and Jim Vorhees who accounted for four of the Toppers' six touchdowns. Eight Hilltopper seniors played their last game for Western.

Freshman Basketball

Considered by many the best group of basketball players ever assembled at Western, the Freshmen rolled to an impressive 14-3 won-lost record. Though each is an individual star in his own right, the Big Red yearlings, with the fine coaching of Wallace "Buck" Sydnor and Mike Kitchens, ended the season with 12 consecutive victories.

Participation in the intramural program has increased in all sports under the direction of Coach Frank Griffin and Scott Brewer of the Physical Education Department.

All students who wish to participate are eligible to belong to one of the following teams: dormitories, fraternities, sororities, clubs, and off-campus groups. The spirit of competition provides the incentive for all these groups to work up to potential.

Track

Dr. Burch Oglesby begins his third year as the head track mentor at Western. His 1967 squad was crowned the Ohio Valley Conference Champions and Oglesby was chosen as the OVC Track Coach-of-the-Year.

Henry Jackson, a freshman from Huntington, N.Y., lead the Topper thinlies. Jackson set records in the long and triple jump and was named the OVC's outstanding track athlete-of-the-year. He was also selected for the U.S. track team to tour Europe last summer.

Tennis

The Hilltopper tennis team showed an impressive 16-3 record last year. The Topper netters are under the leadership of Ted Hornback who is considered dean of the Ohio Valley Conference tennis coaches. Over the last quarter of a century Hornback's teams have had phenomenal success. His squads have captured 200 dual matches while losing only 51. The Toppers placed second in the OVC Tournament.

Baseball

Coach Jim Pickens is in his third year at the helm of the Hilltopper baseballers. His 1967 club, playing such tough foes as St. Louis, Southern Illinois, and the University of Kentucky, posted a 13-16 mark. However, though young and inexperienced in some positions, the outlook is bright for the coming season as several veterans will be returning for another year of play in the always tough Western division of the Ohio Valley Conference.
